

Description of our CD:

The Lost & Found platform is designed to be clear, simple and easy to use. The main colors are dark and light blue, combined with soft backgrounds that give the site a modern and friendly appearance. Text is written in a clean sans-serif font, making it easy to read on all devices.

Navigation is handled through a fixed sidebar, allowing users to move quickly between pages. The layout follows a clear structure with enough spacing, making tables, cards and sections easy to follow. The design is fully responsive such that it works well on both computers and phones.

All style rules are stored in a single CSS file, while the HTML files only contain structure and content. Images are stored in a separate folder to keep everything organized. The imprint page includes the required legal disclaimer and is linked in the footer for easy access.

The Lost & Found logo is placed on a light beige tag, symbolizing the kind of label people attach to personal belongings — a direct link to the project's theme. The word "LST" is intentionally missing the "O" to represent something lost, while the blue "O" in "FOUND" symbolizes that the item has been recovered. The "&" symbol visually connects both words, highlighting the idea of loss and recovery. In the background, small icons such as a phone, wallet, and backpack represent common items students often lose at the university.

Overall, the design is simple, consistent, and user-friendly, helping everyone use the platform without any confusion.
